CHALLENGES & SUCCESSES OF HIGH ALTITUDE CONSTRUCTION

Pikes Peak Summit Complex: Visitor Center & USARIEM Pikes Peak Laboratory

Did You Know?...that at 14,115 feet above sea level, the Pikes Peak Summit Complex is the highest ongoing construction site in North America!

Visitor Center: Constructing this challenging project will create a facility that takes advantage of the inspiring views and natural beauty of Pikes Peak, also known as America’s Mountain.

USARIEM Pikes Peak Laboratory: The U.S. Army has been sharing the summit of Pikes Peak since the 1960s to advance medical research for the benefit of our military and all Americans. The new Army High Altitude Research Lab will enhance our nation's ability to continue conducting high-altitude medical research.

Registration Opens February 14
