

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES - DON'T MISS OUT

Post Leadership Lab (LLAB): The deadline to apply for our Post LLAB is July 31. Our Post started this mentoring program which is open to all Post members in 2011. To date over 130 members have graduated from the program and many have assumed Post leadership roles including serving as Post President. The Leadership Lab is aimed at both up-and-coming leaders and established operational leaders in government and industry that would benefit from the discussion, sharing of thoughts and experiences, getting tips from successful local leaders, team building and readings in leadership and related topics. The 2025-26 LLAB is scheduled to start in August and run through February (about 10 sessions). The LLAB is conducted in hybrid mode (both in-person (highly encouraged) and virtual).

The LLAB application is available at <https://www.same.org/wp-content/uploads/2025/05/2025llab.pdf>.

If you have questions about the Post LLAB, email samesaleadlab@gmail.com.

Texas Region Leader Development Program (LDP): The deadline to apply for our Texas Region's LDP is August 1. This Program, which started a few years ago, is modeled after our Post LLAB and SAME National's Leader Development Program. Since this is our Region's program, the Region's applicants (from the Houston/Galveston, Dallas, Ft Worth and San Antonio Posts) will get priority in the selection process over other SAME members. This 2025-26 Texas Region LDP is scheduled to start in September and run through May (with 16 sessions; 1 in-person and 15 virtual).

The Texas Region LDP application is available at <https://www.same.org/wp-content/uploads/2025/06/2025TXLDP.docx>. A short/bio is required to be submitted with the application. A sample format for it is also available at <https://www.same.org/wp-content/uploads/2025/06/2025TXLDPBIO.pptx>.

If you have question about the Texas Region LDP, email SAMETexasLDP@gmail.com.

The location is pending, but more details will be forthcoming as we get closer to the date.

SAME FOUNDATION BOARD NOMINATIONS

Nominations are open for the SAME Foundation Board. The Foundation Board of Directors' primary mission is to raise funds to underwrite programs that "foster engineering leadership for the nation." The Foundation and the Society share the same Strategic Plan. Terms are for three years on a Jan 1 cycle with an option to extend for an additional three years. Help is needed in the areas of finance and budget, fundraising, marketing, and stewardship. Meetings are primarily virtual 4-5 times per year. Nominations are due Aug 1. You cannot self nominate, but any SAME member can submit your nomination. More info about the SAME Foundation Board is at <https://www.same.org/foundation/>. If you are interested in being nominated by the Post, email samesatx@gmail.com.

RED HORSE AND PRIME BEEF CELEBRATING 60 YEARS

This year's RED HORSE and Prime BEEF Association (RHPBA) Convention / Reunion in Las Vegas, Oct 14-17, will be fun, educational, interesting and inspiring in many ways. But it will also recognize a special event in Air Force Civil Engineering history, the 60th Anniversary of the creation of RED HORSE Squadrons and Prime BEEF Teams. What an enormous impact this event has had on Air Force Civil Engineering.

We know that several members of those original 6 RED HORSE squadrons and Prime BEEF teams which were the first to deploy to Vietnam and Thailand will be there to tell their stories.

Hope you have started to make your plans for things to see and do before, during, or after the Convention/ Reunion. You do not want to miss our very own Elvis show at the Silverton as well as the many attractions nearby. Many interesting venues are of little or no cost. Recommend a quick search of GOOGLE or YouTube. Sponsorships are also available, which you may want to consider. Each sponsor can obtain a variety of RHPBA articles including shirts, hats, coins and patches depending upon the sponsorship level. We always have a variety of interesting items in the silent auction.

Great news too about our Gen Meredith Scholarship Program. We have just received applications from 9 outstanding students which are now being evaluated.

More details about the Convention can be found on pages 10-12.

President's Corner

Howdy, SAME Post!

Last month, the U.S. Army celebrated it's 250th birthday (June 14), followed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' 250th birthday (June 16). As we enter the U.S.A.'s 250th year of existence, we celebrate the important role that military engineers have played in our country's establishment and defense.

I wish you, your families, and your organizations' teams a safe and enjoyable 4th of July. I hope you're able to take some time of from work to spend with those your love. We're taking a break from meeting this month, but we look forward to seeing you at our August meeting. Cheers!

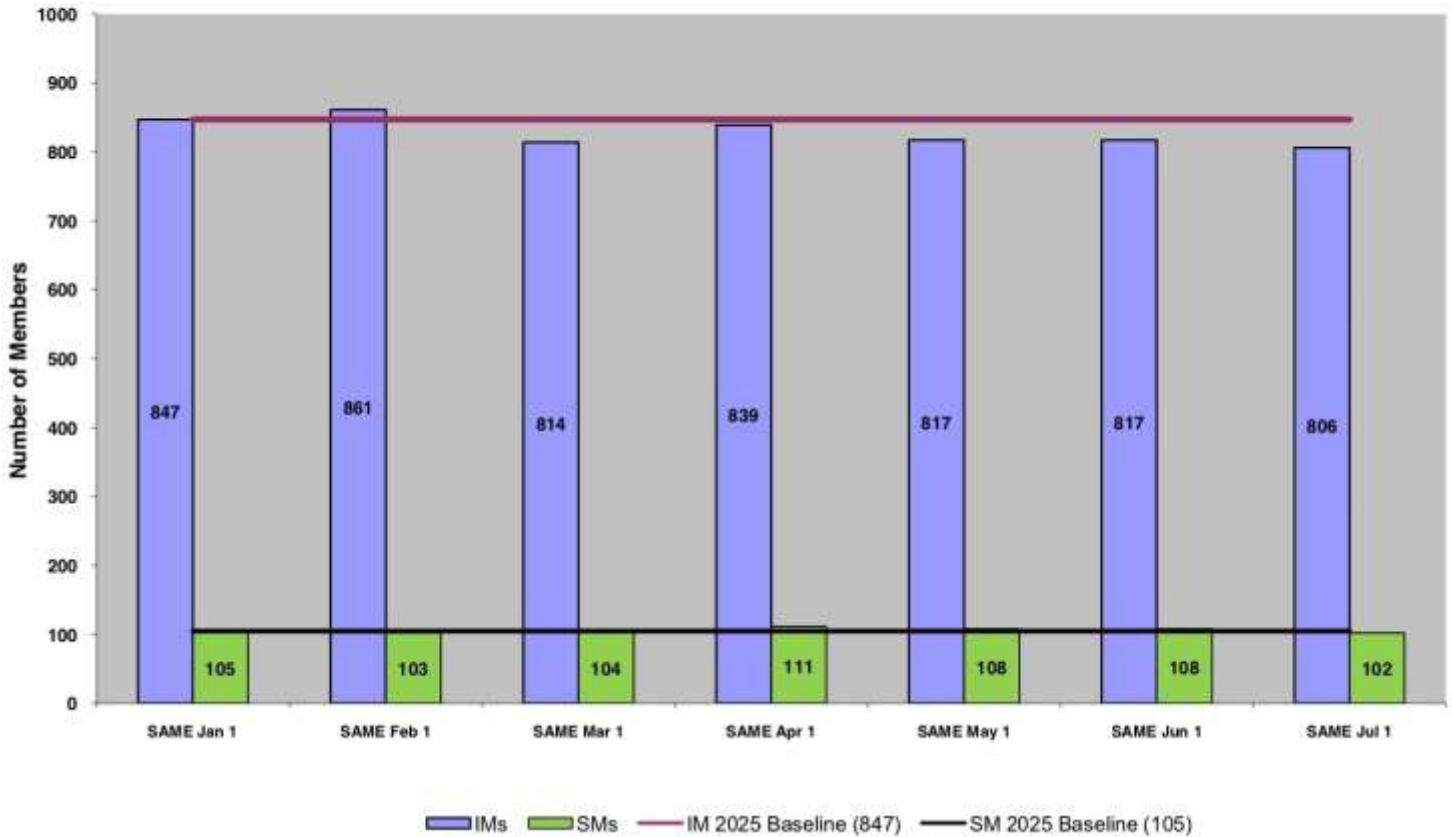

Respectfully,

John K. Baker, PE

RELOCATING???

Did you get a new job or assignment? Or maybe there's some other reason you are or soon will be relocating away from the San Antonio area? There are many important things to think or be concerned about when moving - home, utilities, school for the kids, changing of mail address, vehicle registration and more.

Those, of course, are everybody's focus areas as they prepare for the next big step in their career or personal lives.

As you work those things in your move, it's easy to forget about your SAME membership. Things like what happens to my membership or is there a Post/Field Chapter where I'm relocating to may not be on the top of your list to think about and rightfully so.

So we are here to help you with your SAME membership transition. Just email us where you are moving at samesatx@gmail.com and we will help getting your membership record changed and notifying the Post/Field Chapter in the area you are moving to.

We value you as a SAME member and even though you may be moving away from the San Antonio area we want you to continue to receive all the benefits of membership with our great Society.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE AS A MEMBER - SUPPORT OUR SAME FOUNDATION

The SAME Foundation supports programs that introduce youth to STEM, develop emerging leaders within our membership, and increase the number of veterans transitioning into the engineering and construction workforce. The Foundation also provides a secure and beneficial repository for charitable and other bequeaths from members of the Society and the public at large. See <https://www.same.org/foundation/> for details.

Our nation must have a continuous pipeline of quality engineering and STEM leaders to address the complex national security and infrastructure challenges. The SAME Foundation was specifically created to attack this need by leveraging the charitable capacity of our Society and of engineering and related professions.

Contributing to our SAME foundation is your opportunity to make a difference as a SAME professional!!!

We hope you will consider donating or encouraging your company/organization to donate to the SAME Foundation at <https://my.same.org/donate>.

AI Tools Helping CE Teams Work Smarter, Not Harder

(AF CE Weekly Email Jul 1, Story by Alexandra Broughton Director of AF Civil Engineers Office)

Across the globe and throughout every industry and sector, the impact of artificial intelligence is evident. For Air Force Civil Engineers, the focus is shifting from exploring AI's potential to applying it where it can make an immediate impact, including streamlining workflows, improving operational efficiency, and enabling Airmen Civil Engineers to focus on mission-critical work.

Leveraging AI in day-to-day operations was a central theme of this year's Requirements Development Workshop, hosted by Headquarters Air Force A4C from May 6-8, with several keynote briefings focused on the topic. Two featured sessions, "Future Lab: Beyond AI, What's Next for Air Force Civil Engineering?" and "Work Smarter, Not Harder: Unlocking Artificial Intelligence (AI)", were led by Col.

Brad Ledford, Deputy Director of Facility Engineering at the Air Force Civil Engineer Center, and Dr. Cigdem Meek, AI subject matter expert in AFCEC's Technical Services Division. The sessions focused on how AI agents are being developed to accelerate infrastructure delivery and improve cost estimation, as well as efforts to upskill AFCEC engineers through training with MIT, Air Force Research Laboratory, and other sources to save time in daily operations.

Artificial intelligence refers to the simulation of human intelligence by machines, including the ability to learn, reason, and use language. Tools like machine learning and deep learning analyze large volumes of data to support faster and more accurate decision-making.

Ledford underscored how the need for smarter, faster solutions has never been more critical as infrastructure demands have grown in both scale and urgency. Traditional planning and programming methods, while disciplined, often take years, mismatched with mission timelines that demand greater flexibility and speed. From initial planning and requirements development through completion of construction, Ledford said the typical project lifecycle is currently seven to 10 years. "There're a little over 4,300 projects marching down that path right now with about a $78 billion price tag," he shared, noting the only way to accomplish the robust pipeline of critical infrastructure projects at the speed of relevance is to employ advanced technology solutions. "If we want something we've never had before, we have to do something we've never done before."

There is a growing emphasis to include more adaptive, technology-assisted, and data-driven approaches to project planning and delivery within the civil engineering field. AI is at the center of the evolution, with both an emphasis on automating workflows, and reshaping how engineers interact with fragmented systems and incomplete data to make faster, more informed decisions.

Ledford pointed to a small-scale pilot project already underway to develop an AI tool capable of generating project scopes and class-level cost estimates in weeks rather than months. The goal is to reach a PCR-2 level of project definition with a class 3 estimate in a fraction of the typical timeline, reducing inconsistencies and minimizing late-stage changes that often disrupt execution.

The encouraged adoption of AI isn't about replacing engineers or the work they do, but about giving them tools to scope better, faster, and with greater clarity from the start. "How do we free up time so engineers can get back to doing what only engineers can do?" Ledford asked during his session.

AI Tools Helping CE Teams Work Smarter, Not Harder (cont'd)

NIPRGPT, built specifically for use on government networks, can assist with drafting communications, summarizing technical documents, generating project outlines, and more. With effective prompt crafting, engineers can reduce hours of work to minutes, freeing up capacity to focus on analysis, strategy, and mission execution. Even small gains, like reducing the time spent creating slides or early project documentation, can ultimately translate into thousands of hours saved across the enterprise.

AI literacy is foundational to putting these capabilities into practice. Meek emphasized, “The future belongs to those who know how to work with AI, not against it.” To support that shift, AFCEC has launched a comprehensive AI literacy initiative, backed by DOD-wide tools and academic partners. Engineers have access to curated resources through the AFCEC AI SharePoint portal, including onboarding guides, prompt libraries, and responsible-use training modules.

“Civil Engineering is generating more data than ever before,” Meek said. “Data alone is not enough. We need intelligent tools that extract meaningful insight and transform data into actionable knowledge.”

Engineers are encouraged to explore simple, daily-use cases like writing bullets, summarizing guidance, or translating policy language. These efforts are complemented by broader work to centralize civil engineer data in the Air Force cloud, improve tool integration, and prepare the workforce to adopt more tools like Microsoft Copilot as they become available.

AI is not a silver bullet, but a powerful enabler when applied with clear intent and judgment. Its impact will come not from speculative advances, but from practical, aligned use cases that improve efficiency, reduce rework, and enhance consistency across the enterprise. As RDW shined light on, AI is already here. The next step is to master how to work with it—intentionally, strategically, and with mission in mind.
