Educational Program:

"Operational Awareness and Human-Factor Security: Preparing for What Others Miss"

Christopher L. Powell
Business Development, Conti Federal

Mr. Powell discussed: (1) "situational awareness" as a professional discipline and how this protects people, projects and infrastructure; (2) "OPSEC in the real world" and how small human behaviors create massive vulnerabilities, and how to close those gaps; (3) "human-factor cyber security" – the overlooked frontline where most breaches begin; and (4) "mental agility under pressure" – how to think react and adapt when the environment shifts faster than then plan.
